

Japan Fun Facts - Lifestyle

- In Japan a watermelon costs about 250 - 300 USD and a musk-melon costs around 100 USD.
- If you want to buy a Coca-Cola can from a vending machine, it would cost more than a dollar.
- It is considered inappropriate behavior in Japan to blow your nose in public or tear gift wrappings, although you can smoke almost in every public place.
- Japan has the longest reigning monarchy in the world.
- They are the largest consumer of timber imported from the Amazon rain forests.
- English happens to be the only foreign language taught in Japanese schools.
- Rice for breakfast, lunch and dinner along with tea for lunches and dinners is a common Japanese diet habit.
- Japanese people 'slurp' their food, which is considered as a sign of tasty food. If you don't do it in Japan, it may disappoint your host